

2-1 SIMPLE PRESENT

	(a) Water consists of hydrogen and oxygen. (b) The average person breathes 21,600 times a day. (c) The world is round.	The simple present says that something was true in the past, is true in the present, and will be true in the future. It expresses general statements of fact and timeless truths.
	(d) I study for two hours every night. (e) I get up at seven every morning. (f) He always eats a sandwich for lunch.	The simple present is used to express habitual or everyday activities.

2-2 PRESENT PROGRESSIVE

	(g) John is sleeping right now. (h) I need an umbrella because it is raining. (i) The students are sitting at their desks right now.	The present progressive expresses an activity that is in progress at the moment of speaking. It is a temporary activity that began in the past, is continuing at present, and will probably end at some point in the future.
	(j) I am taking five courses this semester. (k) John is trying to improve his work habits. (l) Susan is writing another book this year.	Often the activity is of a general nature: something generally in progress this week, this month, this year. Note (l): The sentence means that writing a book is a general activity Susan is engaged in at present, but it does not mean that at the moment of speaking she is sitting at her desk with pen in hand.

Give your paper to the teacher, who will redistribute the papers at random to the class. Then everyone will take turns performing these actions for the entire class to guess and describe, using the present progressive.

□ EXERCISE 4. Simple present vs. present progressive. (Charts 2-1 and 2-2)

I like it very much.
(b) INCORRECT: This food is tasting good.
I am liking it very much.

In (d): tastes describes the person's awareness of the quality of the food (stative).

A verb such as like has a stative meaning. It is rarely, if ever, used in progressive tenses.

In (b): Jack's foolishness is temporary and probably uncharacteristic of him.
(d) INCORRECT : Mr. Smith is being old. CORRECT : Mr. Smith is old .	In (d): Age does not describe a temporary behavior. Be + old cannot be used in the progressive. Examples of other adjectives that cannot be used with am/is/are being : angry, beautiful, handsome, happy, healthy, hungry, lucky, nervous, sick, tall, thirsty, young .

2-9 SIMPLE PAST

	(a) I walked to school yesterday. (b) John lived in Paris for ten years, but now he lives in Rome. (c) I bought a new car three days ago.	The simple past indicates that an activity or situation began and ended at a particular time in the past.
	(d) Rita stood under a tree when it began to rain. (e) When Mrs. Chu heard a strange noise, she got up to investigate. (f) When I dropped my cup, the coffee spilled on my lap.	If a sentence contains when and has the simple past in both clauses, the action in the when clause happens first. In (d): 1st: The rain began. 2nd: She stood under a tree.

Rita stood under a tree when it began to rain.

2-10 PAST PROGRESSIVE

- (g) I was walking down the street when it began to rain.
 (h) While I was walking down the street, it began to rain.
 (i) Rita was standing under a tree when it began to rain.
 (j) At eight o'clock last night, I was studying.
 (k) Last year at this time, I was attending school.

In (g): 1st: I was walking down the street.

2nd: It began to rain.

Both actions occurred at the same time, but one action began earlier and was in progress when the other action occurred.

In (j): My studying began before 8:00, was in progress at that time, and probably continued.

- (l) While I was studying in one room of our apartment, my roommate was having a party in the other room.

Sometimes the past progressive is used in both parts of a sentence when two actions are in progress simultaneously.

1st: Rita stood under a tree.

2nd: It began to rain.

Rita was standing under a tree when it began to rain.

EXERCISE 19. Simple past vs. past progressive. (Charts 2-9 and 2-10)

Directions: Use the simple past or the past progressive of the verbs in parentheses.

7. I got a package in the mail. When I (open) opened it, I (find) found a surprise.

9. A: Why weren't you at the meeting?
B: I (wait) was waiting for an overseas call from my family.
10. A: (you, hear) Did you hear what she just said?
B: No, I (listen, not) wasn't listening. I (think) was thinking about something else.
11. A: How (you, break) did you break your arm?
B: I (slip) slipped on the ice while I (cross) was crossing the street in front of the dorm.
12. A: I'm sure you met Carol Jones at the party last night.
B: I don't remember her. What (she, wear) was she wearing?
13. It was my first day of class. I (find, finally) finally found the right room. The room (be, already) was already full of students. On one side of the room, students (talk, busily) were talking busily to each other in Spanish. Other students (speak) were speaking Japanese, and some (converse) were conversing in Arabic. It sounded like the United Nations. Some of the students, however, (sit, just) were just sitting quietly by themselves. I (choose) chose an empty seat in the last row and (sit) sat down. In a few minutes, the teacher (walk) walked into the room and all the multilingual conversation (stop) stopped.

☐ EXERCISE 20. Activity: using past verbs in speaking. (Charts 2-9 and 2-10)

Directions: Come to class prepared to do a pantomime. While you are doing your pantomime, your classmates will try to determine what you are doing and then, when you are finished, will describe what you did, step by step.

Examples of subjects for a pantomime:

1. threading a needle and sewing on a button
2. washing dishes, and perhaps breaking one
3. bowling
4. reading a newspaper while eating breakfast

☐ EXERCISE 21. Activity: using past verbs in writing. (Charts 2-9 and 2-10)

Directions: In writing, describe one or more of the pantomimes that were performed by your classmates. Give a title to the pantomime and identify the pantomimist. Use a few "time words" to show the order in which the actions were performed: first, next, then, after that, before, when, while, etc.

☐ EXERCISE 22. Activity: using present and past verbs in writing. (Chapter 2)

Directions: Describe your first day or two in this country or city. What did you do? What did you think? What did you see? Who did you meet? Did you have any interesting experiences? How did you feel about this place?

Then write about how you feel about this place now. In what ways are your present experiences here different from your earlier experiences?

2-11 USING PROGRESSIVE VERBS WITH ALWAYS TO COMPLAIN

(a) Mary always leaves for school at 7:45.	In sentences referring to present time, usually the simple present is used with always to describe habitual or everyday activities, as in (a).
(b) Mary is always leaving her dirty socks on the floor for me to pick up! Who does she think I am? Her maid?	In special circumstances, a speaker may use the present progressive with always to complain, i.e., to express annoyance or anger, as in (b).*
(c) I am always/ forever/ constantly picking up Mary's dirty socks!	In addition to always , the words forever and constantly are also used with the present progressive to express annoyance.
(d) I didn't like having Sam for my roommate last year. He was always leaving his dirty clothes on the floor.	Always, forever, and constantly can also be used with the past progressive to express annoyance or anger.

*COMPARE:

- (1) "Mary is always leaving her dirty socks on the floor" expresses annoyance.
- (2) "Mary always leaves her dirty socks on the floor" is a statement of fact in which the speaker is not necessarily expressing an attitude of annoyance. Annoyance may, however, be shown by the speaker's tone of voice.

3-1 PRESENT PERFECT

	(a) They have moved into a new apartment. (b) Have you ever visited Mexico? (c) I have never seen snow. (d) I have already seen that movie. (e) Jack hasn't seen it yet. (f) Ann started a letter to her parents last week, but she still hasn't finished it. (g) Alex feels bad. He has just heard some bad news.	The present perfect expresses the idea that something happened (or never happened) before now, at an unspecified time in the past. The exact time it happened is not important. If there is a specific mention of time, the simple past is used: They moved into a new apartment last month. Notice in the examples: the adverbs ever, never, already, yet, still, and just are frequently used with the present perfect.
	(h) We have had four tests so far this semester. (i) I have written my wife a letter every other day for the last two weeks. (j) I have met many people since I came here in June. (k) I have flown on an airplane many times.	The present perfect also expresses the repetition of an activity before now. The exact time of each repetition is not important. Notice in (h): so far is frequently used with the present perfect.
	(l) I have been here since seven o'clock. (m) We have been here for two weeks. (n) I have had this same pair of shoes for three years. (o) I have liked cowboy movies ever since I was a child. (p) I have known him for many years.	The present perfect, when used with for or since, also expresses a situation that began in the past and continues to the present.* In the examples, notice the difference between since and for: since + a particular time for + a duration of time

*The verbs used in the present perfect to express a situation that began in the past and still exists are typically verbs with a stative meaning (see Chart 2-3, p. 15).

The present perfect progressive, rather than the present perfect, is used with action verbs to express an activity that began in the past and continues to the present (see Chart 3-2, p. 42):

I've been sitting at my desk for an hour. Jack has been watching TV since seven o'clock.

□ EXERCISE 3. Present perfect vs. simple past. (Charts 2-9 and 3-1)

Just* can indicate that something happened a very short time ago, very close in time to the present moment, but still in the past. When just expresses this meaning, it is frequently used with the present perfect. However, in informal English the simple past is also often used. Both (a) and (b) are correct:

Typically, the present perfect is used in sentences with already, yet, and just, but in some situations the simple past is also commonly used with these adverbs in informal English, with no difference in meaning.

Why don't you take a break? (d) It has been raining all day. It is still raining right now.	This tense is used to indicate the duration of an activity that began in the past and continues to the present. When the tense has this meaning, it is used with time words, such as for, since, all morning, all day, all week.

The present perfect, NOT the present perfect progressive, is used with stative verbs to describe the duration of a state (rather than an activity) that began in the past and continues to the present. When the tense is used without any specific mention of time, it expresses a general activity in progress recently, lately.
	(j) I have lived here since 1995. I have been living here since 1995. (k) He has worked at the same store for ten years. He has been working at the same store for ten years. 	(d) Sam had left before Ann got there. (e) Sam left before Ann got there. (f) After the guests had left, I went to bed. (g) After the guests left, I went to bed.	If either before or after is used in the sentence, the past perfect is often not necessary because the time relationship is already clear. The simple past may be used, as in (e) and (g). Note: (d) and (e) have the same meaning; (f) and (g) have the same meaning.

Second: Sam left.

Directions: From the given situation, make up a "chain story." One person begins the story; then others continue the story in turn, using the cue words in the given list. Work in groups or as a class.

Example: (Pierre) had a terrible day yesterday. The trouble began early in the morning.
 His alarm clock rang at 7:00.

CUE: when

SPEAKER A: When his alarm clock rang, he got out of bed and stepped on a snake. He was nearly frightened to death, but the snake slithered away without biting him.

CUE: after

SPEAKER B: After the snake left, Pierre got dressed in a hurry and ran downstairs to have breakfast.

CUE: while

SPEAKER C: While he was running downstairs, he fell and broke his arm.
Etc.

Possible situations to begin chain stories:

1. (. . .) had a terrible day yesterday.
2. (. . .) had a great vacation last summer.
3. (. . .) got into a lot of trouble a couple of days ago.
4. (. . .) had an interesting experience last week.

(. . .) had a strange experience yesterday.

Then write two or three additional sentences, and pass your paper to the person sitting to your left, who will continue the story. Continue to pass the papers to the left until everyone in the group has had a chance to write part of the story.

Then decide which story in your group is the most entertaining or the most interesting. As a group, make any necessary corrections in grammar or spelling. Read the story aloud to the rest of the class.

NOTE: You may wish to establish a time limit for each contribution to the story. When the time limit is up, each person must pass on his/her paper even if it contains an unfinished sentence. The next person will then have to finish the sentence and continue writing the story.

☐ EXERCISE 22. Using verb tenses in writing. (Chapters 1 → 3)

CHAPTER 4

Future Time

CONTENTS

4-1	Simple future: will and be going to	4-5	Future progressive
4-2	Will vs. be going to	4-6	Future perfect
4-3	Expressing the future in time clauses	4-7	Future perfect progressive
4-4	Using the present progressive and the simple present to express future time

4-1 SIMPLE FUTURE: WILL AND BE GOING TO

- (a) Jack will finish his work tomorrow.
- (b) Jack is going to finish his work tomorrow.
- (c) Anna will not be here tomorrow.
- (d) Anna won't be here tomorrow.

Will or be going to is used to express future time.* In speech, going to is often pronounced "gonna."
In (d): The contracted form of will + not is won't.

*The use of shall with I or we to express future time is possible but uncommon in American English. Shall is used more frequently in British English than in American English.

□ EXERCISE 1. Simple future. (Chart 4-1)

Directions: Will is usually contracted with personal pronouns in both speaking and informal writing. Will is often contracted with nouns and with other words in speaking, but not in writing. Practice pronouncing contracted will in these sentences.

- I'll come. He'll come. You'll come.
- She'll help us. They'll help us too.
- I'm sure we'll do well on the test.
- It'll probably rain tomorrow.
- Bob will ("Bob'll") be here soon.
- The weather will be hot in August.
- Mary will come tomorrow.
- Bill will be here too.
- The children will be home at 3:00.
- Who will be at the meeting?
- Where will you be around five?
- How long will Tom be here?
- Nobody will recognize you in that wig.
- That will be a lot of fun.
- What will you do?

4-2 WILL vs. BE GOING TO

To express a PREDICTION: Use either WILL or BE GOING TO.

- (a) According to the weather report, it will be cloudy tomorrow.
- (b) According to the weather report, it is going to be cloudy tomorrow.
- (c) Be careful! You'll hurt yourself!
- (d) Watch out! You're going to hurt yourself!

When the speaker is making a prediction (a statement about something s/he thinks will be true or will occur in the future), either will or be going to is possible. There is no difference in meaning between (a) and (b). There is no difference in meaning between (c) and (d).

To express a PRIOR PLAN: Use only BE GOING TO.

- (e) A: Why did you buy this paint?
B: I'm going to paint my bedroom tomorrow.
- (f) I talked to Bob yesterday. He is tired of taking the bus to work. He's going to buy a car. That's what he told me.

When the speaker is expressing a prior plan (something the speaker intends to do in the future because in the past s/he has made a plan or decision to do it), only be going to is used.*

In (e): Speaker B has made a prior plan. Last week she decided to paint her bedroom. She intends to paint it tomorrow.

In (f): The speaker knows Bob intends to buy a car. Bob made the decision in the past, and he plans to act on this decision in the future.

Will is not appropriate in (e) and (f).

To express WILLINGNESS: Use only WILL.

- (g) A: The phone's ringing.
B: I'll get it.
- (h) A: I don't understand this problem.
B: Ask your teacher about it. She'll help you.

In (g): Speaker B is saying "I am willing; I am happy to get the phone." He is not making a prediction. He has made no prior plan to answer the phone. He is, instead, volunteering to answer the phone and uses will to show his willingness.

In (h): Speaker B feels sure about the teacher's willingness to help. Be going to is not appropriate in (g) and (h).

*COMPARE:

Situation 1: A: Are you busy this evening?

B: Yes. I'm going to meet Jack at the library at seven. We're going to study together.

In Situation 1, only be going to is possible. The speaker has a prior plan, so he uses be going to.

Situation 2: A: Are you busy this evening?

B: Well, I really haven't made any plans. I'll eat OR I'm going to eat dinner, of course. And then I'll probably watch OR I'm probably going to watch TV for a little while.

In Situation 2, either will or be going to is possible. Speaker B has not planned his evening. He is "predicting" his evening (rather than stating any prior plans), so he may use either will or be going to.

□ EXERCISE 2. WILL vs. BE GOING TO. (Chart 4-2)

PART I. EXPRESSING PREDICTIONS

Use will and/or be going to with the verb in parentheses.

- Sue (graduate) will graduate / is going to graduate in June. After that, she (begin) will begin / is going to begin work at an electronics firm.
- Fred (be) is going to be will be at the meeting tomorrow. I think Jane (come) is going to come will come too.

3. A: Can you give Ed a message for me?
 B: Sure. I (see, probably) am probably going to see ^{will probably see} him at the meeting this evening.
4. A: Mr. Swan (be, not) won't be here next term. He has resigned.

5. In what ways (the damage we do to our environment today, affect) _____ is the damage we do to our environment today going to affect _____ the quality of life for future generations? ^{will the damage we do to our environment today affect}

PART II. EXPRESSING PRIOR PLAN VS. WILLINGNESS

Use be going to if you think the speaker is expressing a prior plan. If you think she/he has no prior plan, use will.

6. A: This letter is in French, and I don't speak French. Can you help me?
 B: Sure. I (translate) will translate it for you.
7. A: Do you want to go shopping with me? I (go) am going to go to the shopping mall downtown.

15. A: Janice, do you want to come with us?
 B: I can't. I have to study.
 A: Oh, c'mon! You can't study all day and all night.
 B: All right, I (go) will go with you. I guess I can finish this stuff tomorrow.
16. A: I (sell) am going my bicycle. I have to.
 B: What? Why? You need your bicycle to get to work.
 A: I know. But I need money right now to pay for my baby's doctor and medicine.
 I can walk to work.
17. A: How do you spell "accustomed"?
 B: I'm not sure. I (look) will look it up for you.
 A: Thanks.
 B: Here it is. It has two "c"s but only one "m."

*When be going to expresses a prior plan, it is often also possible to use the present progressive with no change in meaning. See Chart 4-4, p. 57. There is no difference in meaning between these sentences:

I am going to meet Larry at Alice's Restaurant at six.

I am meeting Larry at Alice's Restaurant at six.

4-3 EXPRESSING THE FUTURE IN TIME CLAUSES

(a) Bob will come soon. When Bob comes, we will see him. (b) Linda is going to leave soon. Before she leaves, she is going to finish her work. (c) I will get home at 5:30. After I get home, I will eat dinner. (d) The taxi will arrive soon. As soon as it arrives, we'll be able to leave for the airport. (e) They are going to come soon. I'll wait here until they come.	In (a): When Bob comes is a time clause.* when + subject + verb = a time clause Will or be going to is NOT used in a time clause. The meaning of the clause is future, but the simple present tense is used. A time clause begins with such words as when, before, after, as soon as, until, while and includes a subject and a verb. The time clause can come either at the beginning of the sentence or in the second part of the sentence: When he comes, we'll see him. OR We'll see him when he comes.
(f) While I am traveling in Europe next year, I'm going to save money by staying in youth hostels.	Sometimes the present progressive is used in a time clause to express an activity that will be in progress in the future, as in (f).
(g) I will go to bed after I finish my work. (h) I will go to bed after I have finished my work.	Occasionally, the present perfect is used in a time clause, as in (h). Examples (g) and (h) have the same meaning. The present perfect in the time clause emphasizes the completion of the act before the other act occurs in the future.

*A "time clause" is an adverb clause. See Charts 5-1 (p. 70), 5-2 (p. 72), and 17-1 (p. 359) for more information.
